Meeting the challenges of Agriculture and Forestry with Commissioner Bob Odom

Rebounding from a record breaking three-year drought, Louisiana farm and forestland got a good soaking in 2001, year-end rainfall figures show.

“Our farm and forest economies rise and fall on the amount of moisture we get here in Louisiana,” said Commissioner of Agriculture and Forestry Bob Odom. “But because our historic rainfall amounts are so high, much of what we grow here needs large amounts of water to do well. When nature turns off the tap our bottom line gets hit hard.”

All areas of the state received rainfall amounts well above the historic average, as much as 27 percent above the average in some areas. The statewide average increase was 18 percent.

“What this does is replace our moisture tables and enables us to begin to recharge those areas that saw huge ground moisture losses in 1998, 1999 and 2000,” Odom said. “During those years any moisture that did fall either evaporated or was absorbed so fast that it did very little to help grow our crops and trees or be retained in the soil for the following years.”

From 1998-2000 the state suffered $1.25 billion in combined crop and forestland losses because of the drought. Those losses included $486 million in 1998, $202 million in 1999 and $560 million in 2000.

In 2000 forestland was particularly hard hit. “We had a record forest fire season in 2000. We lost a combined $213 million in timberland resources from fires, timber growth losses and timber seedling losses,” Odom said.

According to figures from the State Climatologists Office, the largest gain statewide was in the Natchitoches area where the norm is 54 inches of annual rainfall compared to 74 inches in 2001 or a 27 percent increase.

The Monroe area saw the second largest percentage increase, 22 percent. Figures from several reporting stations in the Monroe area show an average of 71 inches of rain in 2001 compared to the historic average of 55 inches.

The Tallulah area saw an average increase of 19 percent. Tallulah received 69 inches compared to the historic average of 56 inches.

Alexandria saw an 18 percent increase with 73 inches last year compared to its average of 60 inches.

The New Orleans and Lafayette areas have identical average rainfall amounts in 2001 for a 16 percent increase. Seven reporting stations located in the adjoining but separate areas for reporting purposes, showed an average of 74 inches against their historic averages of 62 inches.

Shreveport and Lake Charles received 14 percent increases in rainfall. Shreveport has a historic average of 50 inches and received 58 inches in 2001. The Lake Charles area received 69 inches compared to its historic average of 60 inches.

The smallest gain in the state was in the Florida Parishes from Baton Rouge to Bogalusa where the average increase was 10 percent. The average rainfall for those parishes was 70 inches compared to the historic average of 63 inches.

Formosan termite control program set to expand

A federally funded program aimed at saving the New Orleans French Quarter from termites is being expanded to include more of that historic district.

Operation Full Stop was first implemented more than three years ago to control Formosan subterranean termites in a 15-block area around Jackson Square Park. Now the program is spreading to include an additional 15 blocks.

Dr. Dennis Ring, an entomologist with the LSU AgCenter, says he and other officials “are working with pest control operators and building owners in the expanded area to get the program under way.”

“The Department of Agriculture and Forestry, along with the Formosan Termite Task Force, is pleased to see Operation Full Stop enlarge its borders to include more of the French Quarter,” Commissioner of Agriculture and Forestry Bob Odom said. “We have expanded the department’s tree treatment program twice to include portions of the North Shore, St. Charles, St. John and Plaquemines parishes and to also allow homeowner associations to pay for tree treatment on private land.”

The department initiated the tree treatment program two years ago to treat Formosan termite-infested trees on public lands in the New Orleans and Lake Charles areas. The success of the program necessitated an expansion less than a year later to include additional parishes and some trees on privately owned property. Both programs, tree treatment and Operation Full Stop, are extremely popular in New Orleans, where Formosan termites are eating away many historic buildings.

Formosan subterranean termites have caused millions of dollars in damage to the historic areas in and around downtown New Orleans. But the federally funded program, Operation Full Stop, has been successful in reducing the damage where it has been implemented so far.

“We have seen about a 30 percent reduction in the number of winged termites or alates and about a 50 percent reduction in the number of ground stations with termites in them,” Ring said, explaining alates are winged reproductive termites (cont’d p. 6)

Elena Coe, a fifth-grade student at Little Oak Middle School in Slidell, holds a baldcypress seedling she received from Commissioner of Agriculture and Forestry Bob Odom as part of the prize packet for her winning poster in the state Arbor Day poster contest. Coe’s poster, featuring a giraffe and a giant oak tree, will advance to the national Arbor Day poster competition sponsored by the National Arbor Day Foundation. Carli Marcello, a fifth-grade student at St. Joseph Elementary in Thibodaux, placed second in the state competition and Shafer Mendoza, a fifth-grade student at Madisonville Junior High in Madisonville, placed third. The three winners were announced in a ceremony at Alexander State Forest on Arbor Day, Jan. 18.

that swarm from well-established colonies between April and July of each year.

Operation Full Stop is a cooperative effort that involves federal, state and local organizations, as well as private companies involved in pest control.

Estimates show the termites have caused approximately $350 million in the New Orleans area, Ring said, stressing, however, “With the reduction in the number of termites, you also will see a reduction in the amount of damage and reduction in cost.”

Operation Full Stop is being tested in other parts of the country with Formosan termite infestations. And Dr. Ring said he believes Congress will continue to fund the program for about five more years, but he is unsure of the its long-term effects.

Recipes for the 2002Carnival Season

Craw-Bread
1 teaspoon baking soda
*1 onion, chopped
*1 cup yellow cornmeal
½ cup chopped jalapeno peppers
1 teaspoon salt
*1 1/3 cup vegetable oil
8 ounces Cheddar cheese, grated
1 large can cream-style corn
*2 lbs. Louisiana crawfish tailmeat.

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Mix all ingredients except crawfish in blender. Puree until blended. Pour into greased oblong pan or 9" x 12" baking dish. Add crawfish to mixture in pan. Stir to distribute crawfish evenly. Bake 35 - 40 minutes.

Hot French Bread Fromage'
*1 loaf french bread
½ lb. sharp Cheddar cheese, grated and room temperature
4 tablespoons butter, softened
*Pinch of salt
*Pinch of pepper
*Pinch of garlic powder
*Tony Chachere's to taste

Cut the bread into 1" slices. Mix cheese, butter and spices into a paste. Spread each slice with mixture and reassemble bread. Wrap in foil and heat at 375 degrees for 15 minutes.

Shoe Peg Corn Casserole
½ cup chopped celery
*½ cup chopped green bell pepper
*½ cup chopped onion
1 can French-cut green beans, drained
3 cups frozen shoe peg corn
1 cup grated cheddar cheese
1 can cream of mushroom soup
1 cup sour cream
1 stick butter, melted
1 package Ritz crackers, crushed

Combine first 8 ingredients and put in 9" x 13" casserole. Mix crackers with melted butter and let cool. Cover top of casserole with cracker mixture. Bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour. Serves 6.

Mexican Pepper Soup
2½ cups water
*1 medium tomato, chopped
4 ounce can chopped green chile peppers
½ teaspoon garlic salt & pepper
*Dash of Louisiana Hot Sauce
13 ounce can evaporated milk
1 can cream of potato soup
1 can cream of onion soup
8 ounces Monterey Jack cheese

Combine first 5 ingredients and bring to boil. Lower heat, cover and simmer 6 minutes. Blend soups and milk and heat thoroughly. Cube cheese into 8 one ounce pieces. Place 1 cube of cheese into each bowl and pour hot soup into bowl.

Kovac Ribeye Strips
*2 cups peanut oil
1 batch Beer batter
1 16 ounce rib-eye steak, cut into 1-inch strips across the grain
*Salt to taste

Beer Batter:
1 cup club soda
*1 cup of good Louisiana beer
*1 tablespoon Kosher salt
*1 teaspoon red pepper flakes
1½ cups all purpose flour

In a stainless steel or glass bowl, combine first four ingredients. Whisk together and gradually whisk in flour, blending thoroughly, no lumps. When batter sticks to your fingers it's ready. In a heavy skillet, heat oil to 375 degrees. Dredge rib-eye strips in batter and carefully slide into oil. Don't splatter the oil. Steak is done when batter turns golden brown.

Crawfish Dip
8 ounces cream cheese
16 ounces processed mild Mexican cheese
*1 lb. Louisiana crawfish tails, cooked and chopped
*4 bunches green onions, finely chopped
Bring Cream Cheese to room temperature. Combine cream cheese, processed cheese and butter in a large saucepan. Over a low heat, melt together. Stir in crawfish tails and continue heating. Stir in green onions and heat thoroughly. Serve hot with crackers.
